

You must never apologise or make allowances for people that do not share your vision. It is not your responsibility to open their eyes to your way of thinking. If they cannot see your personal growth, it is because they choose not to see it. You have a choice too.

Never let anyone or anything convince you that you aren't beautiful. The reason you always feel insecure is because you are an entire universe, living in a world made up of stargazers who will only appreciate you for your night sky. Choose wisely.

You are mighty,
a force unknown.
Your heart needs
no one to feel complete.
Inhale.
Exhale.
Rinse.
Repeat.
